3. Guest Speaker – Sarah Sachs-Eldridge – Women's Lives Matter

We are delighted to announce that Sarah Sachs-Eldridge will be speaking on the Women's Lives Matter campaign, of relevance to both men and women within our branch. Austerity and cuts to the welfare state have disproportionately affected women workers. The imposition of Universal Credit, lack of access to affordable legal redress, pay inequality, and low pay in carer roles more traditionally filled by women: all such examples create a double oppression as workers, and as women. The damaging effects of these trends mean that the whole family suffers, whether as dependent children, parents, or spouses, and we all have an interest in ending the discrimination. Sarah will therefore lead a discussion on an extremely important theme.

Unite Housing Workers Branch

Housing Policy Demands

Introduction

This paper sets out the housing policy demands democratically agreed by the Unite Housing Workers Branch (LE1111), all under the broad aim of rolling back the commercialisation of social housing.

Funding for Housing and Homelessness Services:

- Reopen the 2012 debt settlement for council housing.
- Campaign for a serious increase in funding for agencies working with rough sleepers.
- Oppose 'payment by results' funding methods [for homeless services] such as 'Social Impact Bonds' which introduce instability and perverse incentives.
- Ending the freeze on Local Housing Allowance (LHA).
- Repeal of the deeply flawed Universal Credit system which is exacerbating the housing crisis.
- Reverse local authority cuts and call on Labour local authorities to set legal 'no cuts' budgets as a basis for a mass campaign against cuts.

Housing Provision

- Campaign for 100,000 social rented homes per year backed by the required grant funding.
- Support for housing built by local authority direct labour.
- Support for Jeremy Corbyn's call for empty homes to be requisitioned for use by the homeless, particularly those made homeless after Grenfell.
- The use of public land for council house building rather than private housing schemes.

People-Centred Housing Policy

- A review of information sharing [on migrant rough sleepers] to ensure client confidentiality is maintained. Reviews should be implemented by homelessness agencies and funding bodies.
- Binding ballots of local people before regeneration schemes proceed.

Unite Housing Workers Branch

Housing Policy Demands

- A mandatory requirement for each housing association to have an independent and democratic tenants' organisation.
- Ensure council and social housing residents' needs are placed at the centre of [housing] policies.
- Ensure that all housing placements are suitable for the residents concerned.
- Oppose the demolition of tower blocks that do not have the clear support of residents.

Fire Safety Campaigning

- Retrofitting of sprinklers and other safety measures as appropriate with full funding from central government.
- Continued support for Grenfell survivors through the inquiry process including forming a parallel people's inquiry if necessary.
- Immediately make safe all tower blocks regardless of who the landlord is.

Rent Controls

- Campaign for effective rent control.

Housing Regulation and Planning Regulations

- Review of the Social Housing Regulator's powers, including the ability to intervene on behalf of tenants whose concerns are being ignored.
- Full updating of building regulations and restoration funding previously cut from emergency services and for conducting fire building checks.

Protection for Housing and Construction Workers

- Review of housing management staffing levels, management practices and job roles to ensure safety critical roles are adequately resourced.
- Ensuring housing associations and firms awarded public sector construction contracts are free from blacklisting.
- Offer [housing] workers full trade union rights including recognition of their chosen union.

Unite Housing Workers Branch

Housing Policy Demands

- Reverse charges to planning regulations that give more power to property speculators.
